

Contents

	INTRODUCTION	i-iii
Chapter 1	THE FRAMEWORK OF THE SALE
	The sale as a sequence of interrelated and logical steps	1
	The steps in the sale	2
	The use of questions in selling	6
	Selling as a logical process to achieve an emotional objective	9
Chapter 2	PLANNING TO SELL
	Personal preparation	11
	Product knowledge	16
	The sales plan	20
	The territory plan	24
	The sales pattern	28
	The sales cycle	31
	Control procedures	34
	Control documentation	38
Chapter 3	IDENTIFYING THE CUSTOMER
	What are the markets for the product?	46
	Which customers should I sell to now?	49
	Which man should I see?	52
	The human motivational factors	58
Chapter 4	OPENING THE INTERVIEW
	Setting the objective	63
	Cold calling	68
	Telephone technique	74
	Creating interest	84
	The physical conditions for the sale	88
	Mailshots	90
	Leads and enquiries	95

Chapter 5	GETTING INFORMATION
	Information as the basis for the sale	98
	Questioning techniques for control and information	102
	Summarising information	105
	Defining the customer's problem	107
	The salesman's statement of intent	109
Chapter 6	ESTABLISHING THE CRITERIA FOR ORDERING
	Establishing the criteria for ordering	111
	The customer's compromise	116
	Matching the customer's decision criteria to the product features	118
	Assumptive selling	124
	Summarising the criteria for ordering	125
	The trial close to establish commitment	127
Chapter 7	PREHANDLING OBJECTIONS
	The role of objections in the sale	131
	The objections to prehandle	135
	Prehandling objections	136
Chapter 8	HANDLING COMPETITION	148
Chapter 9	SUMMARISING FOR AGREEMENT
	Summarising as a sales technique	152
	Letters and emails	154
	The quotation	158
	Summarising to establish decision criteria – a special technique	162
Chapter 10	SELLING BENEFITS
	Relating benefits to product features	166
	Benefit chains	169
	Relating benefits to customer criteria	173
	The demonstration	177
	Visual aids and 'Powerpoint' presentations	186
	Third party reference	190

Chapter 11	OVERCOMING OBJECTIONS
	Objections as signposts in the sale	193
	Sincere and insincere objections	195
	Overcoming emotional and facetious objections	197
	Overcoming reasoned objections	202
	Competition as an objection	206
	Price as an objection	209
	You are as good as your proposition	214
Chapter 12	SUMMARISING PRIOR TO CLOSING	216
Chapter 13	CLOSING THE SALE
	The second call	217
	Knowing when to close	221
	Knowing how to close	226
	Six closing techniques	232
	Handling the contract	241
	After the signature	243
Chapter 14	KEEPING THE CUSTOMER SOLD
	Pre-delivery	244
	Post-delivery	245
Chapter 15	THE SALE: A SUMMARY	250
Tables
	1 Sales Revenue Pipeline	39
	2 Revenue Pipeline Summary	40
	3 Client Contact Report	42
	4 Daily Call Sheet	44
	5 Relating Customer's Decision Criteria to Product Features	122

